notes from the director for Finding Nemo KIDS

Welcome to Sydney Harbour, home to a squadron of storytelling pelicans who introduce Marlin and his son Nemo, clownfish living in the Great Barrier Reef. Marlin, overprotective of Nemo, struggles to let him go to school. When Nemo is captured by a diver's net during a class trip, Marlin teams up with Dory, a forgetful fish, to find him. Together, they navigate shark-infested waters, encounter helpful sea turtles, and reunite with Nemo, ultimately freeing him and other fish from captivity. In the end, Marlin and Dory send Nemo off to school with newfound trust in his ability to explore the ocean but more importantly a strengthened heartwarming bond that reminds our audience of the unconditional love shared between a father and child.

Over these past few months I have had the honor of working with an amazing team of staff to create a fantastic production of Finding Nemo KIDS, but even more significant, to provide a theater experience for over 120 little actors that are just itching for a second in the spotlight! To begin with I want to thank our producer, Sarah Lederer for your exceptional dedication. From the start of the audition process to our last dress rehearsal, your undeniable commitment to our production and our actors' experiences has been an inspiration to all of our cast and crew. Additionally, I want to thank our lovely music director Anya Holland-Barry. From teaching our actors how to read music to coming up with quick games when we need to fill the time, you always find a way to bring a little extra joy to every rehearsal! Next I want to thank our incredible costume designer and set designer, Rebecca McDermid and Nick Moser. Your outstanding creativity and tireless hours bringing our production to life does not go unnoticed. Thank you for your willingness to always spitfire and brainstorm ideas and your commitment to making our vision into a reality! I would also like to thank our Production Assistant, Dance Captain and Assistant Dance Captains, Aria Johnson, Callie Lederer, Kedzie Johnson and Nolan McDermid. From facilitating pre-rehearsal dance parties, teaching choreography, reviewing blocking or even playing abnormally long games of duck duck goose backstage, this team did a fabulous job bringing our day to day rehearsals to life. A special shout out to all of our volunteers that helped ensure that our performance week goes as seamlessly as possible - stage manager: Erin Cassady, assistant stage manager: Kinjal Vyas, props: Sara Ward-Cassady, sound design: Dale Nickels, assistant sound design: Tom Blankenheim, lighting design: Jim Kyle, programs: Sara Pfantz, tickets: Lynn Vilker, and everyone else who aided in our performance week. I am so proud of all of our actors and unbelievably excited for you to experience Finding Nemo KIDS!

Lastly, this production is dedicated to Peter D. Strube & Peter F. Holland, the dedicated fathers who made us who we are today.

Matilda has astonishing wit, intelligence... and special powers! She's unloved by her cruel parents but impresses her schoolteacher, the highly loveable Miss Honey. Matilda's school life isn't completely smooth sailing, however – the school's mean headmistress, Miss Trunchbull, hates children and just loves thinking up new punishments for those who don't abide by her rules. But Matilda has courage and cleverness in equal amounts, and could be the school pupils' saving grace! This story of a girl who dreams of a better life and the children she inspires will have audiences rooting for the “revolting children” who are out to teach the grown-ups a lesson.

Matilda The Musical left a special place in my heart after it was my first musical back following a year and a half hiatus due to COVID. When I was given the opportunity to direct my first show with VACT, I knew Matilda JR was the one to do. These kids have exceeded my expectations and brought all my crazy visions for this show to life.

This show would not have been possible without the wonderful talents of our fantastic staff. Our producer Elizabeth Kraemer, thank you for always being there for everything anyone needs, supporting me with this show, and making sure everything behind the scenes runs smoothly. My Co-Choreographer Denali Kraemer, we have worked on and been a part of over 15 shows together since 2015. Thank you for taking on this show with me and helping my choreographic visions come to life. It is always a blast when we get to work together and I love what we are able to come up with when we put our minds together. I was excited to get to work with our music director Noah Strube, he has brought the musical score to life. Costume Director Sara Pfantz has been a wonderful partner and collaborator on this show and has made these kids look spectacular on stage. Our assistant music director Daniel Christian and assistant director Liz McCartney, thank you for always being willing to jump into whatever is needed. Bill Owens, our stage manager, is always right there making sure things run smoothly backstage. Sara Ward-Cassady, our assistant stage manager as well as props manager, thank you for everything you do as well as being a mentor for me as I directed my first show. And, thank you to our Lighting Designer Cera Malueg and Sound Design team Dale Nickels and Tom Blankenheim for lighting up the stage and ensuring our wonderful cast can be heard!

A special thanks to all of our volunteers, as well as the parents and families of our cast members. We could not bring this show to life without your unwavering support. Finally, a heartfelt thank you to our fantastic cast. Working with such talented kids has been an absolute joy. This cast has demonstrated exceptional dedication and put their hearts into this production. It has been a pleasure witnessing these kids shine on stage and showcase their talents. You should all be immensely proud of yourselves.

Enjoy the show!

Thank you so much for attending Finding Nemo KIDS and Matilda JR. Like many arts organizations, the past several years caused many changes for VACT. Our regular operations were greatly disrupted and for the first time in VACT's almost 30 year history we were forced to cancel productions and stop operations. We are thrilled to again be bringing 10 live shows to the stage! We are so grateful for all of the support we received during the last several years. Every kind message, donation, and show of support has meant the world to us. VACT will always work to reach new theatrical heights alongside members of the greater Verona area and surrounding communities. We will also work to make our programs accessible to anyone with an interest in any of our programs or productions. Please consider making a donation to VACT and help us continue to bring theater and arts programming to the community.
