notes from the producer

The well-known song “Corner of the Sky” from the musical Pippin exclaims, “I’ve got to be where my spirit can run free. Got to find my corner of the sky!” If theater is what you love, the challenges of the past year have made finding your corner of the sky difficult, but the casts and staff of our spring virtual shows were determined to face these challenges and make their theatrical corner of the sky a virtual stage!

Along with VACT, so many theaters and other artistic venues have spread their wings in the virtual realm during the pandemic. The resulting explosion of creativity has been inspirational and a driving force for VACT to continue creating virtual artistic outlets. While it’s not a path we ever envisioned taking, we have been forced to reimagine what theater looks like if we want to keep art in the community.

Thank you to all of our directors: Lindsay Carr, Kelly Kendricks, Joanne Rash, Henry Gabrielski, Natalie Coombs, Garrett Coombs, Quinn Singer, Katie Monk, Caitlin Griebel, Emma Vogel, and Dusty Smith. Their collective talent, creativity, and support of each other and this project were the backbone of its success. Garrett did double duty as our technical director, providing amazing training and support for the technical program that brought extra creativity to our virtual productions. Claire Johnson and Allison Heil pulled together amazing costumes, with Claire modifying her considerable costume skills to focus on the waist up! Lynn Vilker gave us so much support with the website and tickets, always willing to jump in to learn and troubleshoot the intricacies of linking our ticketing system to livestreamed productions. Last, but not least, Sara Pfantz came on during the pandemic to take on the role of program creator for VACT, creating a beautiful virtual program – I can’t wait to see her work come to life on paper, soon! Finally, I would like to send out a special thanks to Alyssa Dvorak, who is moving on from VACT and taking her fantastic theatrical skills, choreography, and creativity to a new place to have new adventures! Her support of VACT and of these virtual projects (and of me), has been amazing and I will miss seeing her smiling face around VACT.

While we’re not sure how much longer we’ll have to trade stage directions like “enter stage left” for “mute yourself here” or “turn your camera on here,” virtual theater continues to force us be flexible, creative, and resilient and we are so glad we had time with our youth casts to build these fantastic productions and practice all these skills to their fullest!

Enjoy the shows!

Thank you so much for attending our Spring Virtual Youth Productions! Like many arts organizations, COVID-19 has caused a great deal of change for VACT and we face a tremendous amount of uncertainty moving forward. We are so grateful for all of the support we have received since the pandemic began. While we don't know when we will be able to resume our regular productions, your support will help us come back stronger than ever when it is safe to do so. We will always strive to reach new theatrical heights alongside members of the greater Verona area and surrounding communities, and will always work to make our programs accessible to anyone. If you're a theater lover who is in a position to help, please consider making a donation to VACT.

Everyone at NASA thinks that Dr. Weaver’s Mars colony is a joke, because it’s full of average joes instead of astronauts. Their mission? To grow the first eggplant on Mars. As Dr. Weaver takes reports from the self-appointed experts, disappointed sci-fi fans, and customer service nightmares that inhabit the colony under the leadership of the arrogant Commander, the mission starts to seem impossible. But could there be more to the story than they’re letting on?

When a man is accused of abducting half a dozen cats, it's a simple open-and-shut case, even for a jury that's filled with oddballs like a dim-witted PR flack, a bickering couple, and a creep obsessed with french fries. After all, every scrap of evidence indicts the accused. And yet, Juror #8, a wannabe lawyer, believes that the "Cat Burglar" is innocent. Will he be able to sway the other jury members? Or will they side with Juror #3, the only sane one in the room?

Evan is pretty surprised when he joins a video call and finds his ex Della on it, but even more surprised to find that she's calling from a year earlier, when they were still together. Before they can even start to guess what's going on, Evan's unstable flame from one year in the future logs on - and that's before things start to get weird. According to a wild-haired time-hopping scientist, Evan and Della have to keep their future on its predetermined course despite what they might hear from the Hindenburg, their kids, or their future overlords. But what if there's a way out of this virtual time vortex where no one joins a cult or clones themselves?
