notes from the director for Willy Wonka KIDS

Welcome to Willy Wonka's Factory! Where chocolate rivers weave through the halls and Oompa Loompas keep us on our best behavior! Now come along quickly! I'd hate to lose any of you so early in our journey!

Willy Wonka KIDS follows enigmatic candy manufacturer Willy Wonka as he stages a contest by hiding golden tickets in five of his scrumptious candy bars. Whomever comes up with these tickets will win a free tour of the Wonka factory, as well as a lifetime supply of candy. Four of the five winning children are insufferable brats, but the fifth is a likable young lad named Charlie Bucket, who takes the tour in the company of his equally amiable grandfather. The children must learn to follow Mr. Wonka's rules in the factory — or suffer the consequences.

These past few months working on Willy Wonka Kids has been nothing less than magical. I had the honor of working with an incredible team of dedicated staff and volunteers and I truly could not be more proud of the amazing production that resulted from that. This is my first time ever directing a show and I couldn't be more grateful to our producer Sarah Lederer for making it the most seamless and stress free experience possible! She is always prepared for whatever unimaginable situation is thrown our way and is the reason I'm able to keep my head on straight. Our amazing music director Anya has been such a joy to work with! It is absolutely incredible how she helps our young actors find their voice and we could truly not do this show without her. Our choreographer, Sarah Strube has managed to teach us all how to dance with our 2 left feet and look good while doing it! Sarah brings so much joy to every rehearsal and we couldn't be more grateful to have her on our team. Making costumes for lots of little ones is no small feat! Mary Quade took this challenge head on and turned all of our actors into their characters with just a needle and thread (and a lot of imagination). Having over 100 kids in our casts can be a handful but our Dance Captains Brie and Callie and our production assistant Aria handled it with ease. Whether that meant taking kids on bathroom breaks, playing unusually long games of Simon Says, running lines with kids or assisting in dance practice these girls were up for any challenge! Don't forget to check out our amazing Set and Props that couldn't have happened without any of Tom's and Marie's creativity and hard work! A special shout out to all of volunteers that helped insure that our performance week goes as seamlessly as possible - Stage Manager: Pam Ziemlewicz, Assistant Stage Manager: Erin Cassidy, Sound Engineer: Tom Blankenheim, Lighting Designer: Jason Becker, Programs: Sara Pfantz, Tickets: Lynn Vilker and everyone else who aided in our performance week! Last but not least I want to thank Dee Baldock! Dee took on the role of Director consultant and supported me through all the nitty gritty of directing and putting on a show and for that I am so grateful!

Enjoy the Show!

notes from the director for Rock of Ages, Middle School Edition

---

I was seven years old when the 80's began and 17 when they ended, so the 80's were a very formative decade for me. Never did I imagine, however, that I would get to experience the music and fashion of the 80's again through the wonder of musical theater! Taking a trip down 80's memory lane with this cast and staff has been totally rad, it's been gnarly, it's been bodacious, and most definitely choice!

This show would not have been possible without the work of so many people. Thank you to Producer Elizabeth, whose kindness and thoughtfulness is the true north of this show. To Music Director Adam, I so enjoy our creative collaborations and truly appreciate the time you carve out for VACT. To co-Choreographers Alexa and Kenzie - Alexa, I continue to love watching you work with these kids and see you transfer your joy for performing to them, and Kenzie, you have such a gift in teaching youth and every time we collaborate I start to think about what we can do together next! Costume Director Claire, as usual, you have created a visual onstage that makes this show burn bright – your creativity is next to none! Alex, our collaborations are so seamless at this point and even in the face of my “can we build this?!” you are always down for a set design challenge! Bill, it has been so wonderful to continue to work with you in different capacities at VACT and I am grateful for your time stage managing this production. Aria, what a joy to watch you grow at VACT and take on assistant stage managing – can't wait to see what you do next. Marie and Dale, at this point I feel like we are starting to finish each-others' sentences, but knowing you are there for props and sound makes those parts of the show run flawlessly. Tom – you are quickly becoming a part of that team as well, jumping in to work with Dale on sound. Jason, thank you for coming up with creative lighting and thinking about the great things we could do to create that 80's feel! I must also thank my wonderful family for supporting my passion for theater and making space for me to have theater take up so much space!

It truly takes a team to make these youth shows come together and the parents and adult helpers in our cast members' lives are also a major part of that team. Thank you for supporting the arts by encouraging your kids to be a part of this production and for getting them to rehearsals every week, helping them at home, and for volunteering to work on the show in many capacities. We could not do this without you!

Finally, thank you to my wonderful cast. Your creativity, exuberance, dedication, and attitude make Sundays the best part of my week, and I thoroughly enjoyed rocking out with you on this show! As the great Ferris Bueller said in 1986, “Life moves pretty fast. If you don't stop and look around once in a while, you could miss it.” I hope you will remember to look around you when you are onstage and take in the fantastic production you have created.
